A trotting match for $2,000, mile heats, three in five, to a wagon, came off on Friday at the Fashion course between "Dexter" and "Lady Thorne." The former was the winner. Time, 2:22, 2:24, 2:23.

"Muggins" is entered for the Saratoga, N. Y., races, which begin the 9th proximo. Although now somewhat under the weather, the trainer of "Muggins" believes that he will be in good trim for taking the conceit out of his Eastern competitors.

The Nashville Advertiser and Register, referring to the election of Mr. John H. Oberly, editor of the Cairo Democrat, as President of the National Union, says: "Mr. Oberly is in every way worthy of the honor thus conferred upon him, and may be justly proud of the distinction."

Farmers and planters, both white and black, David A. Nunn, the Radical candidate for Congress, is in favor of the tax on cotton. In his speech at Jackson, the Bolivar Bulletin says, he so declared himself. Remember this.

It is said that the Nicaraguan Government is about to institute a claim for damages done by Walker's filibustering expedition. The correspondence of Mr. Seward upon the Alabama question will, it is alleged, fully substantiate the legality of those claims.

The Baltimore Episcopal Methodist advises its Southern friends to buy the English edition of Lange's Commentary upon the Bible. The American edition contains—what no one could guess in a dozen trials—"a partisan account of General Lee's invasion of Pennsylvania."

Our fellow-townsman, W. R. Rope, received an order, on last Friday, says the Robertson Register of yesterday, from a gentleman of North Carolina for a fine cock to be fought at Weldon, on the 15th of June, for a prize of five thousand dollars. At Fort Wayne, Indiana, Wednesday evening, 5th instant, a Frenchman named Kickley took strychnine and died. He came in second in a field of seven, after a hard contest, at the Hoboken spring meeting, opening day.

The Nashville Banner of Saturday announces the arrival in that city of Henry S. Foote, the irrepressible. Having "located" in St. Louis a few weeks ago, it is about time for another change, and we expect to see, in a day or two more, that he will propose to inflict the citizens of that city with an announced determination to practice "law" and woman suffrage politics among them.

An item has been going the rounds of the press lately concerning the death of General Wm. H. Jackson, of Jackson, Tennessee, the well known "Old Red" of the late Confederate cavalry service. The Jackson West Tennessee Whig of Saturday contradicts the rumor, and says that it arose from the confounding of the General's name with that of another Wm. H. Jackson, Esq., who died in Madison county some weeks since.

A fiend by the name of Elisha Walker, and who lives on White river, Arkansas, below Village creek, outraged his own step daughter on Monday week. Walker is only twenty-three years old and is said to have three wives. He has fled from justice, but it is hoped that the strong arm of the law will deal a heavy blow upon his guilty head.

The internal revenue receipts Thursday and Friday exceed a million of dollars, and this amount does not include any returns from the recently assessed income tax. The new law required this tax to be levied in March, but the long delay in assessing and collecting it will put most of it into the next fiscal year, though the annual reports will probably place it to the credit of the year ending July 1st.

The Jacksonport, Arkansas, Herald of Saturday, June 1st, records that one of the most terrible and destructive hail storms occurred a few days before between Elgin and Bird's Point, on White river, that has been known in that section. Every vestige of cotton and corn was driven into the ground and cut to pieces. One man who left Elgin just before the storm came on has not been heard of since, and is supposed to have been killed. The loss of stock was also general and heavy.

Not long since, says the Bolivar Bulletin, Leftwich and Nunn spoke at Jackson. After Dr. Leftwich and his opponent were through with their discussion, old, gray headed Mat. Dyer (colored) came up to the stand and asked permission to say a few words to his people—the freedmen. Dr. Leftwich readily consented. Nunn objected, and called the Doctor if he wished to insult him! Think of that, leaders of Radical fare! One of your leaders turns his nose up because an old negro is granted permission to speak to his people by a Conservative. O, the miserable pretenders.

SOUTHERN LOYALISTS IN ARKANSAS.

A Fair Sample.

DR. CHARLES, Ark., June 8, 1867.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: I am reliably informed that one of the self constituted Radical representatives from this county in the so-called State Convention, held at Little Rock, viz: the Hon. (?) Thos. Quinel, is one of the most notorious outlaws and scoundrels in this whole country. Early in the war he deserted the cause of his Confederate army, and instead of filling his place in the ranks, managed to get a squad of cut throats like himself, with whom he robbed and pillaged indiscriminately. In his rounds he arrested and murdered an old man (Fletcher) and his two sons, for being Union men. For this crime he was arrested by the Confederate military, and turned over to the civil authorities of the county, from whom he managed to make his escape. Afterward he committed other guerrilla outrages, among which was the robbing of a citizen of this place—J. T. Abbott, Esq., of nearly twenty-seven hundred dollars, under the pretext that he was a Union man, and was trading with the Yankees. On the arrival of the Federals at Duvall's Bluff, he (Quinel) went up and "gave the cash," and returned with a squad of Federal soldiers to hunt down, persecute and arrest the "scouts," in which business he actually pursued and arrested men as Confederate soldiers whom he had pretended to conscript into the Confederate service!

Since the war he has continued a blatant Union shrieker, meanwhile amusing himself by gambling, horse racing and drinking mean whisky. In the little experience of the citizens of the county called Radicals, this same Tom Quinn was appointed a delegate to the Union State Convention, and took sundry measures to "regenate the State," which are looked upon by unblemished by every good citizen of this county.

Very respectfully,

F. F. A.

Five companies of the Arkansaw militia have thus far been mustered into the service of the State: Captain George Grisham's company, at Bristol, Johnson county; Captain John T. Robson's company, at Troy, Obion county; Captain W. O. Rickman's company, at New Hope, Franklin county; Captain Joe Blackburn's company, at Liberty, DeKalb county. A company at Cookeville, Putnam county, in command of Lieutenant Wm. L. Stowers, and a company at Knoxville, under Captain Robert Hall, are to be mustered into service this week, and will swell the entire force now in the field to six hundred.

GREAT TROT AT THE FASHION, NEW YORK.

Double Harness with Running Mates.

The Greatest Time on Record.

Two Minutes Nineteen Seconds.

On Wednesday the match between Ethan Allen and running mate and Brown George and running mate, came off over the Fashion Course, and a very remarkable and interesting race it was. The sum staked was $1,000, and the interest in the match was very high. We described Ethan Allen, in our review of Dan Mace's stable some time ago, as looking exceedingly well, except that his fore legs have been scarred and cut up with the firing irons, so that from the hoofs to the knees he is marked like a zebra. Ethan Allan is a very remarkable little horse. In speed and action few, very few, could excel him; but he never seems to like weight much, and it was thought at one time that he had a strong objection to a distance. He is now eighteen years old, and when it is related that a horse of that age has come out and surpassed himself, it must be conceded that there is remarkable good stuff in him. Ethan has been a great performer with running mates. He, with the aid of Sable, beat Flora Temple in 2m. 19¼, and soon after that went into private life with the noted son of his, the chestnut Honest Allen. After some years we find the old horse on the turf again, in charge of his old trainer, the able and astute Dan Mace. Brown George is in the stable of James Dugrey, and was well thought of for this match by those who knew his speed. It was not, however, thought to be upon the cards that Ethan and his consort would beat 2m. 20s. Another thing militated against the success of the brown horse. His runner did not pull evenly and well. He himself did not settle well to his work in the first heat, but cut up rough, so that if Mace had not waited he would have been shut out.

First Heat.—George got a length the best of the start. They had hardly reached the turn before George broke, and was passed by Ethan so rapidly on rounding the turn that at the quarter he showed a length in front. Ethan increased his speed, and gained six lengths ahead, with a strong probability of being able to distance his competitor, who was endeavoring to keep up by running. After reaching the half-mile George trotted very fast, but could not diminish the space between him and Ethan, although he made out to save his distance, and came home some four or five lengths behind in 2:23.

Second Heat.—After scoring a few times their great sway at a gallop, very fast indeed, George could not maintain it, for on rounding the turn he broke up and gave Ethan so much of an advantage that at the quarter he was a couple of lengths ahead, and still gaining. He reached the half-mile pole some three lengths in advance of George, who having resumed his gait, trotted so rapidly as to diminish the space between them to a couple of lengths as they entered upon the home stretch, when a most vigorous and determined contest was entered upon for the heat, which resulted in favor of Ethan, who reached the score a length ahead, in 2:21.

Third Heat.—Ethan now went away at a real clipper, the two mates stepping off duty finely. George was nowhere backward, for at the quarter Ethan, going at a tremendous rate of speed, was only a length in the lead. On the back stretch Ethan's runner made the pace so hot that the trotter broke, and Brown George's team passed and led two lengths at the half-mile. Ethan caught again and dashed away in his old style. All along the Fleshing turn they went very fast, and before they got to the head of the stretch, Ethan's team was up with Brown George's. Mace had the best of it as they came home, and George's mate gave out before he did. Still, it was a very fine struggle, and Ethan won by a length. When the time 2m. 19s., was announced, the old horse received quite an ovation, and we must say he fully deserved it.

SUMMARY.

FASHION COURSE, L. I., WEDNESDAY, May 31.—Match for $1,000, mile heats, best three in five, to wagons, with running mates.

D. Mace's b g Ethan Allen and r. mate 1 1 1

A Sore Fellow.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: After I had made arrangements to have a picnic at Bartlett, and had hired Hamilton Carter to assist in getting it up, he acted in bad faith, and I therefore denounce him as a sore head, lying, dirty, whiskey soaked cuss. If not afraid being called a coward, I would whip him and is used by white men to go about to stir up bad feeling between colored people and their former masters. I am a colored man. I was for years a coppersmith for the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and I am known to many persons as a respectable man. I think the worst enemies of the colored people are such unprincipled fellows as Hamilton Carter, and men who, like him, go about exciting bad feelings. Carter found that I didn't sympathize with such a course, and he acted disdainfully to me. It will not be long until the colored people will know who is bad, honest, dishonest and intelligent.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Young Lady Returning to her Country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-five, she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Balm, and considered it an indispensable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. CORPORATION NOTICES.

Attachment Suit.

THOMAS FERGUSON vs. R. J. WEBSTER.

THIS day issued an attachment in the above case for $1,000. I levied it on the property of the defendant, to-wit: Lot No. 1, Hamilton Carter to assist in getting it up, he acted in bad faith, and I therefore denounce him as a sore head, lying, dirty, whiskey soaked cuss. If not afraid being called a coward, I would whip him and is used by white men to go about to stir up bad feeling between colored people and their former masters. I am a colored man. I was for years a coppersmith for the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and I am known to many persons as a respectable man. I think the worst enemies of the colored people are such unprincipled fellows as Hamilton Carter, and men who, like him, go about exciting bad feelings. Carter found that I didn't sympathize with such a course, and he acted disdainfully to me. It will not be long until the colored people will know who is bad, honest, dishonest and intelligent.

TUESDAY, : : : : : : : JUNE 11, 1867

THE little, ugly, lean Greek hunchback, Æsop, has taught more wisdom during the last seventy or eighty generations than any other man that ever lived. He put words of wisdom into the mouths of animals. He told stories of brutes, captivating to childhood, youth and age, embodying deep philosophy—practical wisdom for every day use—knowledge of human nature coined for the market and the fair—proverbs engraved in the child's memory for the use and guidance of the future man—prudence made easy—wisdom practicalized.

Who does not know the story of the monkey, the cat and the chestnuts? Who does not remember how the greedy monkey burned the paws of the silly cat to enjoy his roast chestnuts unharmed? A cart load of treatise on philosophy, mental and moral, could not depict the nature of the cowardly, the cunning, and the unscrupulous better than it is done in this little fib or fable familiar, to every child. Everybody knows well enough what it is to be a catspaw—to suffer in order that others may enjoy the object of a vicious avarice or an unscrupulous ambition. Catspawism has become a science. No sooner does a mean man or a set of mean men desire what they have not the courage and manliness to seek openly, boldly, and in person, than they cast about for some innocent cats whose paws are to be burned to gratify their greedy lust for cash, office, or influence. The cats climb the political trees and beat all the rich fruits of office; the monkeys sit on the ground and quietly devour them. The Radicals are now playing this game with admirable perfection. They refuse to permit freedmen to hold office—to sit upon juries; but they are using them to keep or put themselves in office. In order to accomplish their base purposes they are endeavoring to build up a "Black Man's Party" against nine-tenths of the white men of the South—against the very men who give employment to the negro. There should be mutual kindness and reciprocal concessions between the negroes and the Southern people. But if the Radicals succeed in their efforts to divert the colored race against their employers and best friends, then will come the war of races; then will the Southern white man seek to give employment to his friends instead of his enemies. We see many negroes occupying the houses and accepting wages from rebels, and then scream and bellow with delight at the proscription and abuse heaped upon their employers by adventurers who care nothing for the negro only so far as they can use him as the catspaw to promote their avarice. If the negro turns his hands against the Southern man who gives him employment, and enables him to support his wife and children, does he not know that such ingratitude will inspire enmity among the whites, and cause them to employ their friends, even at higher wages. The Southern people are kindly disposed towards the negro, but if the negro makes a concentrated opposition to the people of the South, of course there will then be a "Black Man's party and a White Man's party," and it requires no prophet to tell the result. Senator TRUMBULL, of Illinois, an original Abolitionist, a friend of LINCOLN and an enemy to the South, deplored such a state of society, and in the United States Senate in 1859, while replying to Mr. CLAY, of Alabama, he said:

"I trust the Republican party will unhesitatingly set its face against the idea that this Government should procure some region of country not far distant, to which our free negro population may be taken. I fear the consequences which Jefferson so eloquently prophesied unless that is done. The negro population is increasing at a rapid rate. I agree with the sentiment of Mr. Jefferson that two races which are marked by distinctive features cannot live peaceably together without one domineering over the other, especially when they differ in color. The free negro population of this country is a great evil now."

The Southern people do not desire the negro banished from the land of his birth; they have no desire to "domineer" over the freedman, as proposed by Radical TRUMBULL; but they do desire equality—the same rights exercised by the negro—and if the colored population refuse this simple act of justice, and continue their hostility towards the men who give them employment, it will not be twelve months before there will be a Black Man's party and a White Man's party, and the antagonism will be worse than that between the white man and the Indian. In such a contest the people of the North would take sides with the whites, for it is an undeniable fact that the negroes are not permitted to vote in but few States of the North, and in every State and nearly every county in the South the whites are largely in the majority. Rev. HENRY M. TURNER, in a recent speech in Washington City, took the right position when he said he cared for no party, and simply desired the rights of his race, and would adhere only to that organization which insured all the privileges of manhood. He wished, above all things, to see a united South, for he felt satisfied that notwithstanding their education in the past, the Southern gentleman was the best and truest friend to the negro. This is unquestionably true. A few days since we saw a petition circulating on the streets for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the negro. On looking over the list, we found that there were about two hundred dollars subscribed, and of this amount the Radicals had contributed only twenty dollars, while the Conservative citizens of Memphis had subscribed about one hundred and seventy-five dollars! Other objects of charity in this city have been liberally patronized by the Southern people, while the Radicals contribute almost nothing; yet we are told the Radicals are the exclusive friends of the negro, and that the negroes intend to array themselves in solid phalanx against the whites. We would ask the barbers of Memphis what amount of patronage they receive from Radicals. Do the Conservatives or the Radicals give you that patronage necessary to a subsistence for yourselves and families? We would ask the colored draymen of Memphis if it is the Radicals or the Conservatives that give them their employment. Are the waiters at our hotels paid for their services by Conservatives or the Radicals? These are important questions, which it is the interest and the duty of the negro to examine. By doing so they will find that it is not the policy to array themselves against a class of citizens who have never sought to injure them, and who afford them the means of subsistence. Will the freedmen vote for his friends, the men with whom he has been raised and who now give him employment, or will he vote for the contemptible Radicals, who are seeking to creep into office upon his shoulders? Will they link their destiny with those whom they know to be worthy and honorable men—men of wealth and influence in the community—or will they affiliate with those who pay no taxes—who make great pretensions of friendship while they are advising a policy which if carried out will array the two races in a deadly antagonism! The Radicals, who now propose to use the negro for their selfish purposes, will show but little sympathy for him in the hour of trouble. They give him no employment now, and after they get into good offices they will not care whether he prospers or perishes.

EX-GOVERNOR WATTS, of Alabama, in the discharge of his duties as a lawyer in the United States District Court in Montgomery, Ala., felt that Judge BUSTEED'S manner toward him was insulting and offensive, and accordingly announced that he would no longer practice in his court. Judge BUSTEED addressed him a letter of apology the next day, in which he said: "I cannot spare you. Your usually genial manners, and your professional learning, make your companionship very desirable; and although you and I differ as to how lawyers and judges shall respectively conduct themselves in this Court, this need not provoke personal unkindness, and, on my part, shall not." To this Governor WATTS replied the next day, agreeing to resume his duties in the Court, saying: "The rights of my clients ought not to be sacrificed by any considerations personal to myself. It would ill comport with the candor and sincerity of my nature were I to omit to say, in this communication, that your manner, in Court, toward not only myself but to the members of the bar of your Court, is not such as we have been accustomed to in any court, State or Federal, and, to say the least, it is unpleasant."

Dexter and Ethan Allen have been matched to trot with running mates for $1000 a side.

Samuel Lyons, a merchant of Mobile, has absconded, leaving his partner minus $12,000.

Tiffany, of New York, has imported a large part of the famous Esterhazy diamonds, embracing the more costly specimens.

A great deal of counterfeit fractional currency is in circulation in Arkansas, and it is so well executed as to almost defy detection.

The War Department is hurrying off troops from Eastern and Southern garrisons to General Sherman's department, for service against the Indians.

The New York Southern Relief Commission reports that one hundred and sixty thousand bushels of corn and two hundred thousand dollars in money have been sent South up to this time.

Judge R. C. Graves, of Lexington, Kentucky, is experimenting in trout raising. He procured the spawn from New York State, and has now quite a quantity of young fish, apparently in a thriving condition.

The late Daniel O'Connell once met a conceited literary friend, and exclaimed; "I saw a capital thing in your last pamphlet." "Did you?" eagerly replied his delighted listener; "what was it?" "A pound of butter."

The Treasury Department in the next ten days will pay out about twenty millions of currency in redeeming compound interest notes of the same issue. As the latter will be destroyed when redeemed, that amount will go toward the reduction of the public debt.

PARIS, June 8.

The Emperor and Empress of Austria were to-day crowned King and Queen of Hungary with mediæval pomp and splendor. The city was crowded with visitors from all parts of the world and splendidly decorated. The ambassadors of all nations having diplomatic relations with Austria, except the United States, were present.

The coronation took place at Ofen, across the river Danube, and the building rose in the city. Eight thousand Hungarian and Austrian nobles and sixty peers, and one hundred diplomatists and one thousand strangers witnessed the coronation scene, which was magnificent. The Archbishop of the Catholic and Greek churches assisted at the ceremony.

The Emperor was anointed on the ancient robes, crown, mantle and shoes of St. Stephen, first Christian King of Hungary. The Empress was anointed under the right arm pit. A special anthem was sung by the national choir under Liszt.

After the coronation the King, his daughter and several Hungarians, then rode in person to Pesth, where he took the oath in which he promised to recognize the ancient limits of Hungary. Nothing like this has been witnessed for centuries, and in all probability will never be repeated.

The coronation ceremonies closed by the King riding up a mound of earth formed from soil brought from different parts of Hungary, and waving his sword at the four points of the compass, and at the same time swearing that he would defend the kingdom against the world.

There was immense cheering during the rites, and illumination and banquet to-night. At the banquet the Peers acted as servants.

The trial of Surratt commenced to-day. The Criminal Court room was crowded. Judge Fisher took his seat at half past nine, but the court was not formally opened until ten, when the jury was called. All but four answered to their names.

The prisoner was brought in at half past ten and the handcuffs taken off, and he was assigned to a seat beside his counsel. Surratt's face is very pale and wears a careworn and troubled look, but faintly smiled occasionally, as he received the nod of an acquaintance.

After setting in the court room some time he engaged in a lively conversation with his counsel, Mr. Merrick, and was evidently much amused, as he laughed heartily. After all the preliminaries Judge Fisher asked if the counsel was ready to proceed. Mr. Bradley replied that the prisoner was ready, and had been for weeks.

The District Attorney said the prosecution was also ready to proceed, but before proceeding to empanel the jury, however, the prosecution desired to submit a motion to quash the whole, as the jurymen were not drawn according to law, and the names from which said jury was drawn were not legally selected.

The Court granted the application for a recess until to-morrow, to allow time to examine the law.

The prisoner was remanded to jail.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, Judge R. D. McLean, in Grenada, Miss., on the 3d day of May, 1867, H. A. REDFORD, Esq., to Miss Lou McLEAN.

A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another. THE COUNT.

DIED.

On Thursday, June 6, 1867, in Madison county, Tenn., SARAH JANE, wife of A. M. Sloan, of Memphis.

His words of love can never, no affliction such as this; no sympathetic sorrow can replace the faithful wife, the gentle mother, the golden-hearted sister. Only the Providence that took her hence can bring balm to the wounds of the grievous separation—can bring peace to the bereaved. May His grace be sufficient to them in this their sorrow, even as it was sufficient for her when the doors of Heaven opened to her pure spirit.

IN MEMORIAM.

DIED—On the 5th instant, AURORA R., daughter of Martin and Alice GUILD, in the 19th year of her age.

The pure spirit has burst its frail bonds and winged its way to the Lamb, enshrined in whose little heart were those shining lights that encompass the throne, having sought to us save the beautiful casket which enshrined our pearl. Gone, darling, you are gone! Father and mother's promise kept child! The strange words had scarce been spoken, the baby kiss ere the fair west doth that the Reaper should cut down our budding blossom, that our pet flower must wither, demanding of two hearts a sacrifice. They have yielded thee—their hearts' best treasure—to Him who says "little ones," promising a yield which brought our all. In the hushed hours of midnight, when father starts up from slumber to still thy moans, or mother to minister to thy wants, will they not jayingly gaze on them, when they find naught but their little dearest? Oh, baby, thou wilt hold communion with them through that blessed faith which forms the link that unites severed souls in this nether world to this eternal abode. Arrayed in spotless white, and crowned with pale flowers, we have clasped thy waxen hands on thy pulseless breast, and laid thee gently away, murmuring, "Thou art not dead, but sleeping." Rest, birdie, rest! We shall miss thee sadly. We will oft times repair to the grassy mound which now shrouds thee, and scatter fresh blossoms on the turf which envelopes so many, many hopes, as a fitting emblem of thy pure, evanescent young life. Fair child, farewell! farewell! farewell!

Sweetest lay that ever fell
From Angel lips, farewell!
Thy spirit, child, has flown
To mansions in the skies,
Where pleasures never die,
Where cares can never rise,
Where God and angels dwell.
Fare thee well! M.

PROFITABLE PLUNDERING.

Radical Leaders Stole the School Fund.

Over One Hundred Thousand Dollar Traced to Them.

More Investigations Going on.

The Tennessee National Bank Declared a Bigger Swindle than was at First Supposed.

Rutter to be Made a Scapegoat.

The following story from the pen of a Radical legislator is put bold of the State fund secredly devoted to the education of the children of the State, and which resulted in the collapse of the Tennessee National Bank and the sudden disappearance of half a million dollars of that sacred fund, is now likely to be exposed to the scorn and execration of all honest men. The plan to authorize, by legislative resolution, the transfer of the children's school funds to irresponsible hands, was carried out, and then the scoundrels who conceived the villainy, under the threats of ruining the bank, blackmailed it to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars. This would have given a large sum to each Radical legislator. It is supposed, that there was no honor among these thieves, and that a member who voted for taking the school funds out of safe hands got nothing at all, and that a member who voted for it got one hundred thousand dollars. Several whitewashing committees have been sent here to make it appear that the bank was wholly to blame and to keep clear out of sight the shameful complicity of the Radical leaders. Nothing came of these committees. It wasn't intended that anything should come of them. They were to make the public suppose that some one connected with the bank, some officer here, some backer elsewhere, was the criminal. They never breathed a word of the infamous fact that one hundred thousand dollars of the school fund money had gone into the pockets of Radical members of the Legislature and Radical leaders closely connected with Brownlow himself. Why did they not tell the public who the guilty parties were? Why did they fear to let out facts? Was it not because they knew that such an expose would strip from the Radical party the garb of hypocrisy with which it has covered its corruptions and villainies.

THE INVESTIGATION NOW GOING ON.

The AVALANCHE some time ago denounced the villainous part played by the Radical leaders, and now another Radical committee has been sent here to examine the affairs of the bank and exonerate the Radical rogues, who have over a hundred thousand dollars of the School Fund in their pockets, by denouncing somebody else. The man sent here by Governor Brownlow on this errand is Senator Spence. He has been a watchful observer of the manner in which the Radical rogues operate the Radical rogues, who have over a hundred thousand dollars of the School Fund in their pockets, by denouncing somebody else. The citizens of Lebanon contemplate having a grand tournament at that place next July.

A gang of Brownlow's brigands, called loyal mealish, are going about in the upper part of Jefferson county, East Tennessee, beating and abusing negroes and white men indiscriminately.

The McMinnville New Era says: A number of neighboring farms have been sold in our county, within the past few days, to Northern emigrants.

A. L. P. Stiner, who served in the Union army during the war, is the Conservative candidate for the Legislature from Stewart county.

The Murfreesboro Monitor says that notorious robber, "Tinker Dave," has been appointed by Governor Brownlow a Colonel in his militia. "Tinker" is also a Radical candidate for the State Senate.

Harrison Davis, who killed a constable named Gee, in Robertson county, Tennessee, a year ago, was arrested in South Nashville on Wednesday. He had just returned from Texas, whither he fled after the killing, and was to have been married to a lady in Nashville in a day or two.

A farmer, returning to his home by the way of the Nolensville pike, after having disposed of a large number of sheep in Nashville, was set upon by several highwaymen, and deliberately murdered in cold blood, the other day, the assassins rifling his pockets and leaving the body in the road.

We learn from the Monitor, that in Rutherford county, there have been issued two thousand certificates. Fifteen hundred of these have been given to colored and five hundred to white citizens.

In Henry county, last week, a young man named Mark Jones went to a negro's cabin to expostulate with him for, flourishing his fire arms to freely, whereupon the negro thrust his gun through a crack and shot young Jones through and through, killing him instantly and escaped.

The Cleveland Banner says: "Two men, by the names of Layfayette Simms, from Ducktown, and Wm. M. Miller, from Gilmer county, Ga., were arrested and put in jail one day last week. They came here to volunteer in Brownlow's "mellish," and, after imbibing a good deal of talking whisky, told enough of the bad character of both to cause their arrest and confinement."

We learn from the Clarksville Chronicle that there was found in the Cumberland river, near Linwood Landing, the body of John E. Chandler, a lieutenant during the war in company G, of the 11th Tennessee, Confederate. It is supposed that he drowned himself, from the fact that four or five days before the occurrence, he attempted self destruction, by cutting his throat with a dirk knife. It is thought he was prompted to the deed by a fit of mania potu. He leaves a wife at Waverly, Tennessee.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, June 11, 1867.

Business in commercial affairs, including all departments of trade, are dull and heavy, with little doing in the markets, aside from a small jobbing trade doing in plantation supplies. Dry goods are quiet and unsettled. The harvest throughout the South is now progressing, and from every section the crops of oats and wheat are reported unusually large. There has been a large amount of corn planted. The bottom lands which have been overflowed, thereby destroying the cotton standing, have been plowed up, and are planted with corn. It is only to be regretted that the scarcity of seed and difficulty of obtaining labor prevented a greater breadth of land from being planted with grain. But so far as food is concerned, it is believed the country will be self supporting. Our merchants should be fully aroused to the necessity and importance of keeping and sustaining to the Vicksburg trade a triweekly line of packets. Commerce should give this her attention. Now is the time to organize a good line that will run regularly, and accommodate the planters. By so doing the trade that St. Louis would be sure to be brought to our city. The only way to sustain a packet trade is to keep them going regardless of expenses. To support a good line there must be an uniformity of action. The merchants should form a fund to make up the pecuniary loss of the packet until they could build up a good trade, which would be in a very short space of time. The Vicksburg trade is languishing for the necessity of a good line of packets. The planters are becoming indifferent as regards the trade owing to the inability of the Memphis merchants to fill their orders and give them accommodations. They require the best trade, as it is an important one and is rapidly growing, and ere it is too late, it should and must be attended to. Merchants cannot expect to get this trade unless they make some effort towards it; and the proper way to go to take to build up a lucrative trade is to put in a good line of packets, and to support them at all times and by all means. The shipping and commercial interest must work together in order to insure success.

COTTON.—The market yesterday opened dull and quiet, with a small demand and light offerings. The stock on hand is quiet small, and holders are not disposed to realize except at fair prices, while buyers are operating with caution, and only purchase sufficient to fill their small orders. Holders are firm in these views, and ask full prices for middling, which is scarce. Transactions for the day were light, with middling at 23½@24½c; low middling at 21½@22½c; ordinaries at 16@20½c; strict middling at 26@26½c. The market closed steady. The Liverpool market was reported dull, with uplands at 11½d; Orleans at 11¾d; sales for the day, 6,000 bales. The New market was reported dull and quiet, with uplands at 27c and Orleans at 28c.

PHILLIP'S PROVISION EXCHANGE.

CINCINNATI, June 7th, 1867.

DEAR SIR:

The market for provisions during the week past has ruled very quiet, owing perhaps chiefly to the general stagnation which prevails in nearly all branches of trade. There is only a moderate demand, principally on small Southern orders, and there is an absence of all disposition to speculate. In some cases concessions were made, but this did not lead to any material increase in business. The week is closing quiet at nay quotations.

MESS PORK.—Has receded fully 25c per bbl, and the best city brands can now be had at $22 25, while it would be difficult to effect sales at over $22. Country, nominally 25c less than city.

LARD.—Is again easier, and the tendency still downward. City kettled could have been bought to-day at 12¾c, and country ¼c less. Keg—small jobbing sales were made at 13¾@13½c. Lower grades are neglected.

GREASES.—Quiet; 8½@10½c for the range of grades.

BULK MEATS.—Are inactive. Shoulders are easier, closing at 7¾c loose. Rib sides are held at 10c, and clear sides 11c, all loose, with buyers at these rates packed.

BACON.—Was in fair request in the forepart of the week, but closes quiet, with prices in favor of buyers. Shoulders are held at 6c; rib sides, 11c; clear sides, 11¾c, and clear sides, 12½, all packed. Plain hams in fair demand, and are held at 13@13½ for uncanvassed and packed, and 13½@14c for canvassed and packed. Second sugar pickle hams, 14@14½; sugar cured, 15@15½, canvassed and packed.

BEEF HAMS.—Quiet; 21c canvassed and packed, or uncanvassed and packed in tight tierces.

PICKLED BEEF HAMS.—$25@30. Plate beef scarce and nominal, $25.

WHISKY.—Nominal; 30c in bond.

EXPORTS.—Of the week were 2,038 barrels and 600 kegs pork; 1,000 barrels and 1,340 tierces bulk and bacon; 1,342 barrels and 214 boxes pork, and 25,532 pounds loose meats.

IMPORTS.—1,056 barrels and 26 kegs lard; 168 hhds and 7 tierces bulk and bacon; 14 barrels and 20 boxes pork, and 92,545 pounds loose meats.

FREIGHTS.—Eastern bound remains unchanged. To New Orleans on steamer, 40c per 100 lbs for pork, freights, and $100 for pork. By barges, 30c per 100 lbs, and 80c per barrel for pork.

Very respectfully,

GEO. W. PHILLIPS, Jr.,
Provision and Produce Broker.

GROCERIES IN NEW YORK.

COFFEE.—The market for Brazil continues quite dull, and, for all except prime qualities, which are scarce and salable at much request, prices favor buyers, and for fair to good our quotations are further slightly reduced. The sales are 200 bags Rio, received via Lisbon, at 11c; 300 do. per steamer Morrison, 12½c gold, in bond; and 2,250 do. per same, on terms we did not learn. At Baltimore, 1000 bags Rio, balance per Adelaide, sold at 11c gold, in bond. Good quality of other descriptions have attracted more attention, and in Maracaibo the transactions are large. We notice 800 bags Laguayra at 17¾@18c gold; 400 Java, 1200 pockets Singapore, 3100 bags Maracaibo, per Theresa, 3510 do per Alhambra, 1000 do, from second hands, on terms we did not learn. 694 bags St. Domingo, all the stock here, are to be shipped from first hands. The stock of Rio in the country is 50,517 bags here, 19,800 at Baltimore, and 6300 at Philadelphia—together 76,317.

MOLASSES.—There has not been much activity since the large transactions noticed in our last, but a steady distributive demand has prevailed for immediate use, the market remaining firm at previous rates. The sales are 200 hhds Porto Rico, in lots, at 63@72½c; 200 Barbadoes, in lots, 58@60c; 158 Nuestras, 58@60c; 50 entered and centrifugal Cuba, 66@68c; 150 sloyed Cuba, in lots, 46@48c; a cargo of 408 hhds and 48 tierces do, 47c; 197 hhds, 2 tierces and 179 bbls Cuba Muscovado, 51@53c, 4 months; and 119 hhds Demarara on terms not ascertained.

RICE.—The market has become quiet since our last, but remains pretty firm, the supplies being light. The sales are 400 tierces Carolina at 11@ 11½c; 50 bags Rangoon, 9 90@9 62½; and 1,250 do in bond, $3 70@4 12½ gold.

SUGAR.—The market for raw is not so active as before, but there is little or no variation in prices, and operations are scarcely varied from any description at the close, however, there was a firm feeling; holders offering their stocks only at pretty full prices. The stock, though increasing, is less than it should be to be quite full, and the decline has made further progress. We quote other than Stuarts', 15¾@15½c. for hard; 13¾@14¾c. for soft white, and 12¾@13¾c. for yellow. The sales of raw are 2,241 hhds, at 10¾@12¾c.; 350 Porto Rico, 11@12¾c.; 78 Barbadoes, 10½@11 9-16c.; 4 clarified do., 12¾c.; 56 hhds. and 41 bbls. St. Croix, 11¾@12¾, and 150 bxs. Havana, 11½@ 12¾c., 3 mos. For refined 1,650 bags Marsca, in our last, 14½c. By auction, 104 hhds. damaged Muscovado sold at 9¾@9¾c., cash. Shipping List 8th.

DULL TIMES IN NEW YORK.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

So many of our leading men have gone to Europe, and so many more are about to leave with their families for the watering places and other summer resorts, that the great metropolis from now till about the end of August may be considered from home. In the fashionable as in the business world there is a dead halt. The fashionable weddings have ceased. The merchants generally say they are not making money enough to pay rent or clerk hire, but if the crops should turn out abundant, they say the West will be a profitable customer toward the end of August. From the South but little is hoped, though it is thought that times there, commercially and politically, have now about seen their worst, and that the future must necessarily witness an improvement.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of Wednesday says:

The stock market is extremely dull, which, indeed is true of every branch of Wall street business. There is an unusual absence of speculative spirit, and all the maneuvering to draw the public into the arena is unavailing. Merchants have no surplus funds with which to divert themselves in Wall street during the lull between seasons, and possibly they have learned, during the last four or five years, that stock speculation is attended with quite as much risk as faro, or any other gambling."

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

At the wonderful revelations made by the great Astrologist

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

SHE reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from domestic unhappiness, mismanagement or other causes, have become estranged. She brings together those long separated, causes speedy marriages, and tells you the very day you will marry, describes the person, and even the name and character of your partner. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural power, gives you the information you desire of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the multitude of stars that crowd the heavens—the Astrologer reads the destiny of man. Each star represents a person on the earth. From the position of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she defines the future destiny of man. Call on Madame H. A. Perrigo, the Astrologer on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have the opportunity of meeting one so far advanced in the sciences and all desired information, ft. Parties living at a distance can have their nativities written and their future life revealed with satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit answer to any question, with the nativity and future life written and sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The money will be returned or destroyed. Reference of the highest order can be given. Call and see her. She will plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born. Address,
